Train the Trainer for Prevention of Aggression and Physical Holds[®] meets Department of Family and Protective Service (DFPS) standards and is designed to instruct your more experienced staff on specific teaching tools that will:

1. Allow your staff to tailor the material to meet the specific needs of your facility without affecting the integrity of the course;
2. Strengthen their presentation ability;
3. Train them to teach safely and effectively; and,
4. Provide measurable documentation of the participant's understanding of the materials presented.

Call: Denisha White (310) 897 8044 or Mike Messinger at (512) 659-8843
E-mail: mgmconsulting@msn.com, Website: <http://www.mgmconsulting.biz/>

The Trainers will be able to cover topics such as:

1. Common Issues - evaluating staff emotions when facing a crisis to determine the client's goals of behavior. (A great tool for developing that "gut" instinct);
2. Recognizing a crisis before it is a crisis;
3. Verbal, non-verbal, and creative interventions;
4. Long and short-term goals of interventions - an examination of where we want to go with a client. (An excellent documentation tool);
5. How we provoke restraints and ways to avoid them; and
6. New Protective and Regulatory Service (PRS) standards.

The Trainers will be able to teach the following protective holds:

1. Basket hold;
2. One - person hold;
3. Two - person hold (with assists); and
4. Several escapes and blocking moves.
